The Maritime Commission has earmarked these Winches for REA activities. The Winches were crated for export and the Maritime Commission has been unable to advise us on all of the parts included with each Winch. The breakdown shown below is the price that has been accepted by the Maritime Commission for each part that is found to be included with each Winch when received by the Cooperative. Any parts that are not received will not be paid for by the Cooperative.

These Winches were originally intended for tractor mounting but can be used for truck mounting by exchanging the power take-off if the power take-off does not fit your truck, for a power take-off that will fit your truck. It is definitely known that a power take-off is included with each Winch. How many of the other items are included is not known. Missing items however can readily be purchased separately from the manufacturer. A description of the Winches is as follows:

We want to take this opportunity to notify all Cooperatives that if any materials they receive through Surplus War Property do not match the descriptions as contained in the authorizations which we issue and as contained in the descriptions given in the releases, that they should immediately enter a claim to the disposal agency stating in what manner the properties do not match the descriptions given.

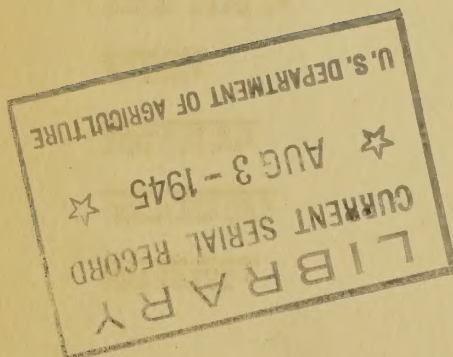

A copy of this claim should be sent to us. This action should be taken within 10 days after receipt of properties. The disposal agencies will make an adjustment where such cases exist.

We are sure you can understand that errors in shipping are bound to exist, due to the magnitude of the program and to the Disposal Agencies' reliance upon the Owning Agencies to ship according to instructions. The Disposal Agencies have assured us of their desire to handle all sales in a businesslike manner, making adjustments where claims are justified.

The percentage of such errors to the volume of surplus war property purchased by the Cooperatives has been extremely low; in fact, less than 1/10 of 1%.
